Description

Hotel Leo is housed in a historical building dating back to 1450. Once a mansion of a local nobleman of the Venetian period, it is now a unique hotel consisting of a mix of Cretan, Venetian and Turkish elements that have mingled over time. The hotel's entrance faces one of the most colourful, medieval narrow streets of the Old Town of Rethymno, Vafe street, where you can enjoy your breakfast or drinks. Since its opening as a hotel in 1982, and after its complete renovation in 2008, it offers eight unique cozy rooms of great aesthetics and architecture, thus offering to its visitors an outstanding experience during their stay. Four of these eight rooms can host up to three persons. For the travelers who love the beauty of the past but without losing the amenities of today, Hotel Leo, with respect to the tradition and the needs of modern guests, is considered to be an ideal destination.
